

ALLYSHIP IN ANTI-RACISM

ANTI-RACISM IN SOCCER RESOURCES

Crystal Dunn in Forbes - A direct call for the media and individuals to address our bias and default to representing whiteness as the ‘face of soccer.’

Brandi’s Corner - In WIS’s most recent “Brandi’s Corner” Crystal Dunn talks frankly and openly to Brandi Chastain about the need for white people to engage in supporting and elevating Black athletes more. Doesn't get more relevant than that!

The Undefeated - A sports journalism platform dedicated to the intersections of race, sports and culture.

RISE - Through partnerships, programs and workshops, they inspire leaders in sports to create positive change on matters of race and equality. Good for organizations to consider taking courses from them/ learning from their expertise.

Loving Sports When They don’t Love you Back - A book by two sports journalists on how to consider the ethical issues of inequity in the sports we love.

Black Women's Players Collective - Follow the group on social and in the media to listen to the experiences of Black women in soccer. Look out for calls for resources, media attention etc to see if there’s any way allies can support their mission further.

Aries Pickett - Head of HR for NWSL just did this wonderful video about how to implement EDI in the workplace.

WIS Inclusion Letter - Tips to foster inclusion and allyship for all marginalized groups.

GENERAL RESOURCES

The Racial Justice Bookshelf was created to make it easy to find and buy anti-racist books from Black-owned bookstores.

The Vanishing Half by Brit Bennett - Fiction that's highly accessible and entertaining but asks us to consider what it means to be ourselves authenticity when we are faced with racism, colorism, sexism and homophobia. Allyship is about listening with empathy.

How We Get Free: Black Feminism and the Combahee River Collective by Keeanga Yamahtta Taylor – “Eliminating racism in the women’s movement is by definition the work for white women to do.”

Link to find Black-Owned restaurants

Instagram - DAILY exercises and reminders to develop allyship tools. Some accounts to follow:

- Anti Racism Daily - Take action to dismantle white supremacy
- Laylafaad - NYT bestselling author #MeAndWhiteSupremacy
- Shop.thoughtful - Black owned businesses
- Courtneyahndesign - Korean American anti-racist educator
- No White Saviors - EDUCATION • ADVOCACY • ACTION
